TRAVELERS

Dear Alumni and Friends,

This December, embark on a breathtaking eight-day winter getaway to Costa Rica, where the stunning natural beauty, rich culture, and vibrant landscapes of Central America await.

Begin in the bustling capital of San José, where you'll experience the city's fascinating history and modern charm. Discover Costa Rica's rich indigenous history and heritage, indulge in traditional Costa Rican cuisine, and explore iconic landmarks such as the Teatro Nacional and Gold Museum.

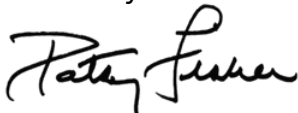

Venture beyond the city to discover Costa Rica's awe-inspiring natural wonders. Visit the Irazú Volcano National Park, home to the country's highest active volcano, and enjoy panoramic views. Continue your adventure with a full-day excursion to the Poás Volcano and La Paz Waterfall Gardens, where you'll explore an active crater, the tranquil Botos Lagoon, and lush gardens teeming with exotic wildlife.

Next, experience the Arenal region, known for its iconic Mistico Hanging Bridges — perfect for observing the region's diverse biodiversity from above. Then, journey to the world-renowned Monteverde Cloud Forest Biological Reserve, a global leader in conservation and scientific research.

In partnership with local guides and experts, our tour will be led by Elizabeth Ferry, Professor of Anthropology. Professor Ferry will enrich and inform the journey with her expert insights into Costa Rica's history, including the roles of mining, sugar, coffee, and gold production.

Spaces are limited — secure your place on this unforgettable journey today. Call EPIX Travels at (203) 604-1365, visit brandeis.epixtravels.com, or email info@epixtravels.com to join us.

Nature, History, and Flavor

December 2 - 9, 2025

Day 1 - Tuesday, December 2nd

San José, Costa Rica

Depart home for San Jose, Costa Rica. Arrive in San Jose and transfer to your hotel. This evening gather for a welcome dinner with your faculty leader and fellow travelers.

(D)

Day 2 - Wednesday, December 3rd

San José, Costa Rica

Today, visit Irazú Volcano National Park, home to Costa Rica's highest active volcano at 11,260 feet. The volcano offers breathtaking views and a crater lake that shifts colors due to its unique mineral content. Located in the Central Volcanic Mountain Range, Irazú last erupted in 1963 during President John F. Kennedy's visit, adding to its historical significance.

Day 4 - Friday, December 5th

Parque Nacional Volcán Poás

Today, we'll visit Hacienda Doka, where you'll immerse yourself in the fascinating world of Costa Rican coffee. This historic coffee plantation offers a behind-the-scenes look at the coffee production process, from cultivating the seedlings in the nursery to the intricate methods used at the Heritage Processing Plant, which still operates with machinery dating back to the 19th century. Conclude your visit with a guided tasting of eight unique coffee blends, exploring the rich flavors and aromas in the plantation's gift shop. Experience the breathtaking Poás Volcano National Park. One of Costa Rica's most iconic attractions, Poás Volcano, boasts one of the largest active craters in the world. Just a short hike away lies the Botos Lagoon, a serene, rain-fed lake nestled within an extinct crater. Surrounded by lush cloud forests, the lagoon provides a tranquil contrast to the volcano's activity. Our adventure continues at the La Paz Waterfall Gardens, a verdant sanctuary of natural beauty. Stroll through vibrant botanical gardens filled with tropical flowers, including orchids and heliconias. Marvel at the cascading waterfalls, such as the towering La Paz Falls, which provide stunning photo opportunities. Along the way, encounter Costa Rica's incredible wildlife in the park's exhibits, featuring colorful butterflies, playful monkeys, hummingbirds, big cats, and other native species. This experience offers an up-close connection to the country's remarkable biodiversity.

Day 5 - Saturday, December 6th

Monteverde

This morning, enjoy a scenic drive to Monteverde.

Our first stop will be lunch at a local non-profit artisan cooperative dedicated to enhancing local women artists' economic and social well-being. We'll have a chance to converse with the artists and view their work. After lunch, we'll visit the Monteverde Cloud Forest Biological Reserve, one of the world's most famous reserves and essential in Costa Rica due to its conservation activities and scientific research. Founded in 1972 and covering an area of 3,500 hectares, the Monteverde Reserve has 2.5% of the world's biodiversity. The reserve's geographical, topographical, and climatic conditions have favored its surprising biodiversity. In its forests, we find four "Ecological Life Zones," which give life to different ecosystems inhabited by hundreds of species of mammals, birds, butterflies, amphibians, reptiles, insects, and arachnids, as well as a great variety of plants such as mosses, lianas, and common trees of the cloud forest.
